Student From Sweden To Attend Lincoln-Way High

The sixth foreign student to be received at Lincoln-Way high school and has reported to his arrival to school authorities. This year's student, Lars-Ake Erick Lindholm, 17, is from Enskede, a suburb of Stockholm. A high school in Sweden is known under the same name as in Germany, a gymnasium. Lars is a gymnasium student and when he finishes his year here he will have another year to go in his native land before he is ready for a university.

While attending Lincoln-Way he will live in the home of the William Schwabs, Parker rd., New Lenox north of Francis road. The mailing address is Mokena.

Jeannine Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.F. Peters, 145 W. Francis rd., New Lenox, a Lincoln-Way student has been spending the summer as guest in the Lindholm home. She left Sweden last Friday and was to have a few days in Paris and London before starting back. She was due home today or tomorrow.

Another Lincoln-Way girl who spent the summer abroad as an exchange student is Beverly Guildenzoph, of Manhattan.

The trip abroad for the two Lincoln-Way girls and the coming of Lars to the United States is all a part of the Lions International foreign student exchange program. The Lions would have paid for Lars transportation to and from Lincoln-Way but the young man saved them that by winning a scholarship offered by the Youth for Understanding Teen Age Experimental program, which took care of the fare.

Lars arrived by plane at Detroit on Monday of last week (Aug. 12) after an 18-hour flight from Amsterdam. The journey from Stockholm to Amsterdam, by train, took 24 hours.

The elder Lindholm, also names Lars, a headmaster or superintendent of a school that has an enrollment of between 1,400 and 1,500 and covering grades one thru nine. Mrs. Lindholm is also a school teacher. Lars has one sister, now 20, who hopes to become an airplane hostess for TWA. Mr. Schwab, who will be Lars' foster father during his stay here, was formerly associated with the state superintendent of schools office and is now identified with the airborne educational TV program that is sponsored by Purdue university.

The Schwabs have two daughters at Lincoln-Way, Joyce, a junior, and Susan a freshman. Linda graduated this June as did Roger Kadow, a son of Mrs. Schwab. They have a younger boy, Bill, 11, who is in sixth grade at New Lenox school, and there are two other daughters who are married. Mrs. Jean Spiess, who resides near her parents, and Mrs. Janice Sullivan, of Hopedale, Ill.

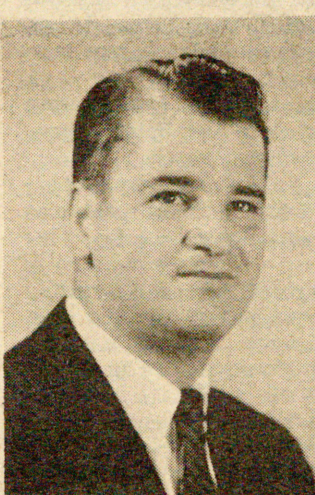

The Schwabs took Lars to the state fair at Springfield, and this week Mr. Schwab was to take him with him to Purdue. Lars will also see two other campuses this fall, Northern Illinois university where Linda is to enroll and Illinois Normal university where Janet returns for her sophomore year. While at Springfield Mr. Schwab took Lars to the house and senate chambers, the governor's office, the office of the secretary of state and other offices in the state house.

Lars is of a slender build, above average height and weighs 135 pounds. His favorite sports are soccer and track.

He has been taking nine subjects at his regular high school, religion, Swedish composition, English, French, German, history, mathematics, physics, chemistry, art and physical education.

Lars came to Lincoln-Way last Thursday to meet Supt. A. Hunter Chapman and Assistant Supt. Donald D'Amico. The latter has had charge of the foreign exchange program at Lincoln-Way and he will confer with Lars later relative to the scholastic program he will undertake here.

Some organizations have already asked that Lars to appear before them as a speaker this fall but the school restricts such appearances until the second semester when the student is more at home in his environment and the language.

GEORGE R. SHUTACK, of 120 Pine st., New Lenox, has received his master's degree in science from Illinois State Normal university, from where he also had his bachelor's degree. School administration was his major field of study. Mr. Shutack, who is a son of Dr. and Mrs. John Shutack, of Joliet, is a teacher in the Kromarek grade school of North Riverside, where he has charge of the educable mentally handicapped program. The program is set up to serve several communities, including Riverside, La Grange, Brookfield and Lyons. He is rated as an excellent man in this field.

This scholarship is given in memory of Betty Lou Carroll, a graduate of the Silver Cross School of Nursing, jointly by the Will County Vulture 796 of the 40-8, Donald L. Two New Lenox Men In Highway Planning Group

Two New Lenox men have been named to aid in a highway and transportation planning program for the urbanized area surrounding Joliet, Stanley Gilmore, the mayor, and Lester Brown, head of the New Lenox planning commission.

Mayor Gilmore is on the eight-member planning committee which is headed by Edward Liberty, Jr., of Channahon, chairman of the Will county board of supervisors, with Mayor Maurice Berlinski of Joliet as committee co-chairman. Other members of the policy committee are William G. Knapp, mayor of Crest Hill; Alfred J. Rodegiero, mayor of Lockport; Stanley Waznis, mayor of Rockdale; James H. Dinkheller, district engineer from the state highway office at Elgin, and Earl H. Bowman, facility planning engineer, division of highways.

Brown was named to the technical committee, made up of engineers and planners. There will be others appointed to this committee as the program develops. An advisory committee also is to be named later. This last committee is to be made up of representatives from town highway offices, the port authority, school boards, PTA, railroads, buses and historical societies.

Under the federal aid highway act of last year this continuing comprehensive transportation planning process must be ready as of July 1, 1965.

After that date all road projects for the urbanized area must conform with the master plan and a part of the approved street and highway program.

The technical committee is labeled as the "work horse" of the program. This committee will gather information and make recommendations to the policy committee.

This study which is scheduled to wind up with a master highway and transportation plan will be paid for by the federal, state and local governments with the federal people picking up 76 per cent of the tab. The state is expected to pay 12 per cent and that would leave an equal amount for the local governments to assume. No one has come up yet, however, with any estimate as to what the cost will be.

Inventories and analyses are to be required in 10 areas; economic factors affecting development; population; land use; transportation facilities including those for mass transportation; travel patterns; terminal and transfer facilities; traffic control features; zoning ordinances, subdivision regulations, building codes; financial resources, and social and community-value factors.

L-W Starts School Year August 30

Lincoln-Way high school will get its 1963-64 year underway on Aug. 29 when the incoming freshmen report. The next day, Aug. 30, all students will report, including the freshmen who came the previous day. These days, however, are really half days. The first full day session comes Sept. 3.

Students will find that the office has been moved across the hall in the quarters formerly utilized by guidance directors and to make room for the guidance section some space had to be lopped off of what had been a classroom. It was pointed out, however, that the classroom were overcrowded anyway and so a little more compression may not be injurious.

Work on the new addition to the school is in full swing and that is the reason for shifting office as well as other labeled space to new locations. The contracting firm is ahead of schedule, it was reported, so some of the new quarters may be ready in the spring.

Busses will be operating on regular schedules, same as last year, it was announced.

ELIZABETH M. CAPPEL

Elizabeth Cappel Dies; Mokena Teacher 33 Years

Death has ended the career of one of the best known figures in the Mokena area. Mrs. Elizabeth M. Cappel, 64, teacher and later superintendent of the Mokena grade schools for 33 years, died last Friday morning, Aug. 16, at Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, where she had been a patient for six weeks.

Relatives who visited her Wednesday night found her in good spirits and she told them she was feeling much better. She died in her sleep about 5:30 Friday morning.

Born Elizabeth Krusemark at Truman, Minn., Nov. 30, 1898, she came to Mokena in 1929 to visit relatives in the area and when she learned of an opening as a teacher in the school she applied and was hired.

Previously she had taught in rural schools in Truman area, including a year in a school on an Indian reservation. She was a graduate of the Truman high school and the Mankato Teachers college. In all Mrs. Cappel was a teacher for 43 years.

Mrs. Cappel retired at the end of the 1961-62 term. For 18 of her 33 years with the schools she was principal and later superintendent. During that time she taught many youngsters whose parents had also been her pupils.

Last January she was one of five persons honored by the Mokena Chamber of Commerce at a special dinner for the community's most distinguished citizens.

Mrs. Cappel was a member of Delta Kappa Gamma sorority;

Marguerite Chapter, No. 187, Order of the Easter Star, Joliet, and the Women's Guild of St. John's church.

Surviving are three stepsons, Leslie Cappel, of Mokena, Harold, of Chicago, and Marvin, of Tinley Park; a sister, Mrs. Mabel Morgan, of Sherburn, Minn.; a brother, Lester, of Minneapolis; two nieces, Margaret, Mrs. Wesley Cappel, of Mokena; Mrs. Connie Meyer, of Denver; three nephews, Cecil Krusemark, Mokena, Meryle Krusemark of Truman, and Jerry Krusemark, of Great Falls, Mont., and 10 grandchildren.

Removal was to the Hirsch chapel at Tinley Park where friends called until Monday forenoon. The body was then brought to St. John's church where services were conducted at 2 o'clock with the Rev. William J. Riemann, former pastor there, officiating. Interment was in St. John cemetery.

Expendable workbooks will be on sale in the bookstore. Students may purchase them as they are needed during the year.

Fisher also urged students who are new to the area to register at the main office prior to the opening of school. Anyone not now registered may come in between 8 a.m. and noon or 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. each weekday.

Book Rental Fees Due

Registration week at Orland Park grade school will begin next Monday, Aug. 26, and continue thru Friday, Aug. 30, it was announced by Supt. Norbert Jerling.

Parents are asked to come to the school on one of those days between 9 and 2 p.m. to pay book rental fees.

School will start Sept. 3 for pupils in grades one thru eight. Kindergarten classes will begin Sept. 4.

Book Rental fee is $8 for pupils from first thru the eighth grades. Parents can also insure their children if they wish. The insurance fee is $2.50.

Last names of the parents are arranged alphabetically and registration time is allocated for them in that manner.

The schedule:
A thru E ----- Aug. 26
F thru K ----- Aug. 27
L thru Q ----- Aug. 28
R thru Z ----- Aug. 29

Those unable to come to the school on the day specified may come Friday, Aug. 30.

The fee for material to be used in kindergarten is $15 per pupil and the cost of milk is $3.80. It may be that kindergarten pupils living more than a mile and a half from school will not have to pay the bus fee. A bill awaiting the governor's signature would allow reimbursement from state funds for bus fare for such pupils.

Parents with questions may call the school office -- FI9-0051 between the hours of 9 and 3.

The Lincoln-Way high school band, under the direction of Robert E. Taylor and assistants Richard Johns and Larry Pfeiffer, did its part thru appearances in and around Escanaba, Mich. during the past ten days in upholding and furthering traditions established by other Will county bands in the past.

For the third straight year, the band has enjoyed a camp period in the J. W. Wells State Park at Cedar River, Mich. Combining business with pleasure, it has put in a full schedule of rehearsals, parades and concerts, plus swimming, softball, volleyball, and so on. Mrs. Taylor, head cook, reports that one of the favorite sports seemed to be the one played with knife and fork in the mess hall three times a day.

The business part of the schedule included two concerts in the Wells park, before audiences of more than 500 people; participation in the Menominee county centennial parade, and a concert at Escanaba. The band joined the centennial parade as a replacement for a unit that had withdrawn, and drew much applause for its sharp marching and maneuvering along the parade route that was nearly three miles long. Radio and newspaper articles commented on the bands appearance in the parade that was billed as the largest in the history of the twin cities.

On Monday evening, Aug. 12, the band members and camp staff were guests of the Escanaba Senior Citizens and Chamber of Commerce at a chicken dinner in the Sherman hotel, and then showed their appreciation by presenting an excellent concert in the local high school auditorium.

The only blemish on the entire 10 day camp period was contributed by the elements with rain that caused the concert to be moved from the beautiful lake front band shell in Escanaba to the auditorium.

Mr. Leukes, president of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, praised the band for its musical ability and versatility, and extended an invitation to return in the future.

"We'll promise the works including cooperation from the weatherman", he declared.

Linda Matasovic Queen Of Jr. Hereford Group

Miss Linda Matasovic, of Mokena, who will be a senior this year at the University of Colorado (Boulder) was crowned queen at the annual banquet and meeting of the Illinois Junior Hereford Association.

The meeting was held at Springfield while the state fair was in progress last week.

Miss Matasovic is a graduate of Lincoln-Way high school and was quite active in 4-H work. That she is active in Illinois Junior Hereford Association is only natural. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Matasovic own the OXO Hereford Ranches off Francis rd., west of Mokena, and Linda and her younger sister, Marilyn, have been showing Herefords since they were tall enough to reach a yearling's halter.

At the meeting last week Kenneth McMillan, of Prairie City was elected president of the association. Marilyn Matasovic was one of the three directors elected.

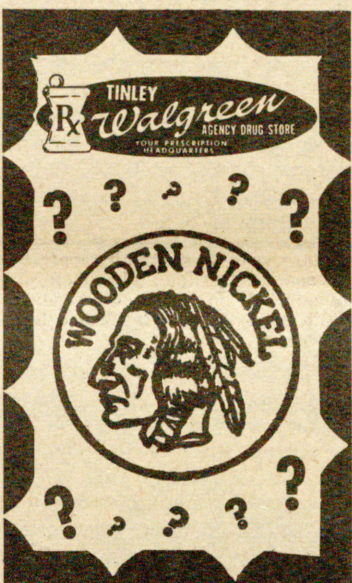

The group plans to get-together when the International Livestock Exhibition is on at Chicago in November. The junior association will have a banquet the night of Nov. 29 in the Livestock Exchange building, at 6:30 and all members are invited.

OXO Herefords Take Prizes At State Fair

Spectator interest, like the competition, ran high in the Hereford show at the Illinois state fair last week. Quality cattle in bountiful numbers sought the championship awards while more than 800 persons watched the judge make his selections.

Blue ribbons in this event were carried off by OXO Hereford Ranches of Mokena. The owners, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Matasovic, had a winner in OXO Starlite Silver, a two-year old bull, and also in OXO Monarch Lad 4, a senior yearling bull.

Also the winner of a blue ribbon for her summer yearling heifer, OXO Bocaldo Cerry, was Marilyn Matasovic, the younger daughter of the house who is quite active in 4-H work. Her entry was reserve champion in the junior livestock show at the fair and a top choice of its class in the open show.

Plan Alumni Association

Keeping track of a "family" of 2,000 is not easy, but this is the task the Carl Sandburg high school student council has set up for itself.

Don Wilz, council president, says the council is planning to organize an alumni association among the nine classes which have graduated from Sandburg since it was opened in 1954. Karen Lundgren, student council adviser, said the organization will have several purposes; to help keep track of the Sandburg family, to inform them of what their classmates are doing, and to foster school spirit.

The student council will call the organizational meeting in conjunction with the 1963 homecoming game with Homewood-Flossmoor, Oct. 26. At this time, officers and class representatives will be elected at a pre-game brunch.

Early in September, a letter and reply card will be sent to the home address of all Sandburg alumni explaining the details of the first meeting. Prior to that time, persons interested in helping set up the association may write Don Wilz, Student Council President, Carl Sandburg high school, 133rd Street and LaGrange Road.

Miss Ann Show Become The Bride Of C. Deeks Carroll

At a 8 o'clock candlelight ceremony the evening of August 17 in the St. Paul's Union Church, Miss Ann Show became the bride of C. Deeks Carroll Jr.

Rev. Arthur L. Herries officiated at the wedding service uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Show, 10850 Maplewood Ave., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Carroll, R/2, Orland Park.

The organist was Mrs. Vilma

Miles. Escorted by her father, the bride wore a silk organza gown with chapel length train with a bustle adding back detail, cotton lace with a touch of pink rosebud trim on the neckline, skirt and bustle.

Mrs. Rodney Orr attended as matron of honor. She wore a rose colored full length organza over taffeta dress. Dressed identically with Mrs. Orr was the bridesmaid Miss Judy Carroll, sister of the groom. Paul Amann of Buffalo, N.Y., attended as best man, and ushers were Lance Roberts, Phillip Yurtis and Dennis Larson.

A reception followed in the church parlor.

Following a trip to San Francisco, the couple will reside at 13101 Greenwood ave., Blue Island.

The bride is a elementary school teacher in Blue Island and the groom is studying for his master's degree at the University of Chicago.

Blame Railroad For Snag In White St. Paving Job

Blacktopping White Street at Frankfort was on the agenda for this summer, village officials were informed by the highway department last spring but the project has struck a snag, Mayor George Sangmeister informed the board at its regular meeting Monday.

The New York Central railroad is objecting to the proposed improvement, according to the report that has come to him, the mayor said, but he didn't know the basis of the objection. It has been reported from various sources that the railroad wants to pull out its tracks.

Acting on suggestions by board members Mayor Sangmeister was to contact the state highway department and endeavor to persuade it to proceed with the improvement of the remainder of White street, exclusive of the rail crossing. White street is in bad condition, the board agreed, and needs resurfacing.

Trustee Robert Dean was authorized to confer with officials of Standard Industrial Compound Co. to determine if an agreement can be worked out under which the village can pay off a $3,000 charge set up in a contract that dealt with extension of a watermain under the E.J. & E. crossing on Center rd. It cost $3,500 to put the main under the rail crossing and the contract with the village provides that the first three property owners that hook onto the main south of the crossing are to each pay the industrial firm $1,000.

This charge is a deterrent to possible customers -- classified as small water users -- who would be willing to pay for extending a six-inch watermain but balk at paying an additional $1,000 to Standard Industrial Compound.

Herbert Lambrecht, realtor told the board Monday night he has a client that wants to put up a small plant on Center road that would employ half a dozen persons and pay approximately $100 to the village in sales tax. The plant would hook onto the village sewer, Lambrecht said, but wanted to drill its own well to escape the $1,000 payment. The plant would be within 300 feet of a village main, it was said, and according to the village ordinance covering water connections if one is within 300 feet of a main water is considered available and must be utilized.

Trustee Dean suggested that perhaps Standard Compound would be willing to make a deal under which the village could pay off the $3,000 over a period of years and thus open the door to development of the area south of the Compound Plant.

The board also expressed itself in favor of having an ordinance drawn which would provide for 12 days of sick leave a year. There is nothing on the books at present that covers this subject.

Brude Wells was hired to cut weeds and grass along the streets as well as to keep the park mowed. Wells also indicated that when the time comes he would like to have the job of operating the snowplow.

Water users that are bypassing meters are in for trouble. The village plans arrests in such cases and court appearances.

4 Home Ec. Teachers At State Meeting

Four home economics teachers from Carl Sandburg are attending the Illinois Vocational Home Economics Teachers Association meeting in Peoria, this week end.

They are Mrs. William Cote, Mrs. Milton Genthner, Miss Ardis Rewerts and Mrs. G. H. Lewis Reynolds.

Mrs. Cote will discuss curriculum changes in food and nutrition at the meeting which is required for in-service training.

Later this month, Carl Sandburg will host the Section 20 Future Homemakers Association for a leadership training meeting. About 80 students from 15 schools are expected for the one-day session, Aug. 26.

Earlier this summer, Mrs. Cote attended the Invitational National Workshop in Food and Nutrition at Cornell university. The workshop lasted the entire summer session.

Mrs. Cote was one of four classroom teachers in the nation to be invited to the workshop by the U.S. Office of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Many Attractions Await Peotone Fair Visitors

Exhibits at the Will County Fair, like all other fairs, are always the big attraction. For some, the most interesting part is the keen competition for prizes in all departments. For others, the Midway, with its rides and concessions, is the most important feature. The Will County Fair at Peotone on Aug. 22-23-24-25 will have all this - and more. Two fine programs are scheduled for the opening day - The Tractor Pulling contest in the afternoon and Red Blanchard and the Cavalcade of Talent in the evening.

There will be five divisions in the tractor contest which is scheduled to get underway at 12:30 p.m. The contest is open to all privately owned, rubber-tired tractors. Four-wheel drives are not permitted. The contestants will vie for $750 in prizes, ranging from $50 for first place to $5 for seventh. The five classes are light, medium light, medium heavy, heavy and extra heavy. This event will be staged on the new concrete slab, 14 by 120 feet, especially constructed for the contest this year.

Donald "Red" Blanchard, popular WGN radio entertainer and after dinner speaker will be the featured entertainer Thursday evening. Blanchard needs no introduction to midwest radio listeners. He served more than 25 years as MC on the National Barn Dance and is now president and co-owner of radio stations at Mason City and Cedar Falls, Ia.

Appearing with Blanchard are The Crowells, expert performers on the trampoline. Henry Cowell and his wife, Ida Mae, are both capable of turning in award winning routines, but use their skills to create hilarious comedy scenes portraying the trials and tribulations of an awkward beginner on the bounding net.

Harry Todd and the Toddlers are an exceptionally athletic American family, including the boy's pet dogs, and they present comedy, skillful hand-balancing and boundless energy in their novel acts.

The 3 J's feature the Jacobs Kids, Darlene 20, accordionist; Bob 17, guitarist; and Kay 11, string bass. These veteran performers appear frequently on central Illinois radio stations and their acts include loads of comedy with take-offs on popular TV personalities.

The horse pulling contest staged by the Northern Indiana Horse and Mule Pulling Association last year, met with enthusiastic approval and they will be back with their show again this year. They are scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Friday, Aug. 23. This association knows how to give you the best in this kind of entertainment. Fourteen teams have already been entered, including last year's winner, Abe Thompson of Plymouth, Ind., and Leroy Piper of Chesterton, Ind., who placed fourth last year. Association members have been in five events this year and Thompson and Piper are currently leading in points to date this season. These show horses are decorated with fancy, colorful and expensive hand-made harnesses.

Any team in the area may be entered by contacting the management of the association on the grounds by noon Friday. The owner must produce a weight slip from the Peotone

A 1500-lb. stone boat, with weight added, is used in the contest. Each team starts by pulling its own weight over a 25-foot distance. Four hundred pounds are added after each event and this continues until all teams are eliminated except one.

Auto racing fans will want to see the Friday evening program when the United Auto Racing Association stages one of its thrill-packed midweek events at 7:30 p.m. The fifth-mile clay track should produce some exciting moments.

Paul D. Kenbe, association president, states that there will be four heat races of eight laps each; the six fastest qualifiers will appear in the six-lap handicap event; a 15-lap semi-feature and a 25-lap feature. Thir-

The Sipes family broke ground for their new home in September, 1958 after moving to suburban country from Chicago. In the lower photo, a sunsplashed swimming pool graces the living area of the Walton A. Smith Jr., home in the Spring Creek Woods area near Lockport.

PLANTER AND YARD LANTERN greet guests arriving at the Bob Otto residence at 22 Logan Street in Lemont. Stately trees, amid landscaping and plantings, give the home an atmosphere of serenity and permanence.

In homes with Flameless Electric Heat you almost have to hunt for dust

When you move into an electrically heated home you can practically forget about dirt. Electric heat is as clean as the electric light you read by.

There's no flame or fuel to make dirt, soot, or grime. And electric heat is such gentle heat it doesn't even stir up dust. In fact, in an electrically heated home you often have to look for dust.

EVERYTHING STAYS CLEAN LONGER

Curtain Buying Rule-Of-Thumb

When presented with the problem of buying curtains for that new home, it is a good rule-of-thumb to buy curtains at least twice the width of the window. Draw curtains and drapes should extend two and one-half times the window width.

Private Water System Is Country Living Bonus

If you're building a quality home beyond city water mains, be sure that you arrange to have a quality private water system. Without it, your dreams of country living become nightmares of problems and inconveniences. However, with a quality water system, you'll be able to enjoy the pleasures and freedoms of country living with all of the urban conveniences.

A private water system is just what the name implies. It is your own source of water that can be used by you and your family without restrictions. In addition to providing ample water for basic needs, you can wash your car, sprinkle the lawn and garden, and even enjoy the advantages of a swimming pool without experiencing water shortage problems.

Automatic dishwashers and clothes washers, food waste disposers, modern kitchens and attractive bathrooms are just as much at home in the country today as they are in the city--thanks to the plentiful water supply delivered by a private system.

A private water system can supply water less expensively over the years than a central or municipal system can--for just pennies a day. And with a private system, you're in control. Your use of water will never be restricted because a central system can't provide enough for everyone.

Marked as one of the outstanding advantages of country living, the private water system offers other benefits, too:

1. Makes possible a wider selection of building sites.
2. Water is fresher, as it is drawn from a well and does not stand in a pipe or reservoir.
3. With a private water system, the homeowner is protected against increases in water bills.
4. The constant high pressure of a properly installed water system provides protection against fire.

After determining that the area in which you plan to build has a sufficient ground water supply, the next step should be to secure the services of a competent well drilling contractor.

To assure yourself that the contractor you select is reliable and has the knowledge and experience to provide you with all the water you need--when you need it--it is suggested that you require the following:

1. Ask him to work under a detailed written contract with complete liability insurance for your protection as well as his own.
2. Ask him to blueprint the job for you in step-by-step detail. You should also request a certified log of the well and a statement of the work he is performing for you. The log should cover depth and thickness of the various layers of drift, rock, shale and clay that he encounters while drilling.

Ask him to guarantee the materials and quality of his workmanship. He should report the results of the pumping tests, the size of the well casing and well screen and the indicated water yield per hour.

The properly sized water system is the key to maximum comfort and convenience. The average family of four should have a water system that delivers 300-400 gallons daily. Additionally, in order to meet peak demand periods, a domestic water system should be capable of providing 400 gallons per hour.

This will not only allow you to have simultaneous use of water in or out of the house, but it will also provide you with the necessary supply and pressure for fire protection.

To select the pump and related equipment best suited to your family's needs, you should seek the advice and service of a qualified water system dealer. (Often, the well drilling contractor is also a water systems dealer).

Besides knowing which type of equipment will be most efficient for your home, he'll know how to install it and how to service the pump should maintenance ever be required.

In order to be confident that your private water system is properly sized, be sure to tell him what your present needs are and what you're planning for the future. If you anticipate having a larger lawn or garden or a swimming pool, he'll see that your system is sized to accommodate these additional demands without expensive changes in equipment.

A properly constructed and well designed private water system takes no back seat to a municipal or community water supply. There will be no drop in pressure as other homes require water, which is sometimes true of community water sources; and there will be no restriction on use of water for lawn watering, supplying a swimming pool or even washing the car. With the minimum of care it requires, the private water system is in many ways superior to any other type of water supply. And over the years, it is certainly the least expensive.

As more and more families choose to live in rural or suburban areas for the kind of living they have dreamed of, it will be their private water system that will make their country homes healthful and enjoyable.

To Move or not to Move...

To stay may mean living in a too-small home or a home inadequate for your comfort or needs. But with Joliet Federal home improvement loan--the possibility of adding extra rooms, enlarging kitchen, sleeping or recreational facilities, modernization, repair--becomes a reality.

Casual Playroom For Teenagers

A playroom can be a big help in keeping teenagers off the street. It doesn't have to be fancy, either. In fact, the more casual and functional playroom furnishings are the better.

A phonograph is standard equipment in most playrooms, but a television set, snack bar and table tennis are other popular items.

Although a playroom can be enjoyed all year long, many parents feel it's particularly important in summer when school is out and the youngsters have time on their hands.

POWDER ROOM can save time and steps. The family, as well as guests, will welcome the added convenience. Plant And Garden Tips

University of Wisconsin scientists have developed a chemical compound which may be a new weapon in the fight against Dutch Elm disease. The compound is injected into a tree through holes bored in the trunk. It is a systemic and kills the bark beetle which carries the disease. In experiments conducted over a two-year period, the chemical protected 135 trees, while untreated elms suffered up to 40% infection.

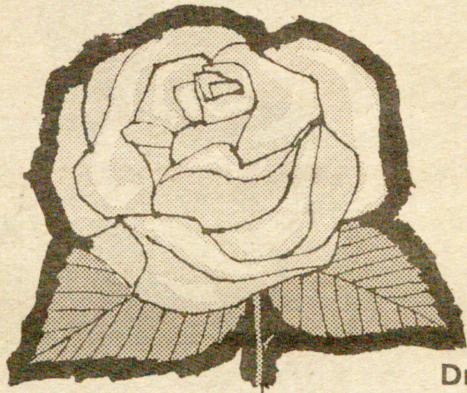

If rabbits bother your garden, Kansas State University specialists have developed a rabbit repellent which they say will keep the rodents away from young fruit trees. Mix one pound of powdered resin in one pint of denatured alcohol. Paint the mixture on trunks of trees, or spray it on with a coarse nozzle.

A wagon wheel planter is picturesque and practical. Plant it with herbs to spice up your cooking and place it in the yard where it gives accent to your plantings. Letter in the names of the herbs on the rim of the wheel for easy identification.

SHAPELY SUNSHADE---This man-made "sunflower" is designed to outsmart that late summer sun. A striking umbrella in the shape of a sunflower has been created by lacing heavy canvas on a tubular framework. The umbrella adjusts to any angle to cast shade where desired.

Hardwood Floors Offer Style Variety

The current decorative practice of leaving large expanses of attractive flooring uncovered has sparked new home owner interest in the various species and styles of hardwood flooring now available, according to S. M. Nickey, Jr., president of the National Oak Flooring Manufacturers' Association.

Many leading interior designers are utilizing the exposed floor idea in their smartest room creations.

Hardwood, America's traditional Designer Says:

Wood Trim Sure to Cure Ailing Decor

Difficult decorating problems often can be licked by the discreet use of wood moldings, designer Carl Ficken advises his clients.

Mr. Ficken, a member of the American Institute of Decorators and the National Society of Interior Designers, points out that a room that's too long will appear to have better proportions if wood moldings are applied vertically to the side walls at regular intervals. The strips can be painted to match or contrast with the walls or can be left the natural wood color.

"To give a pleasant lift to a long, narrow hall, break up one wall with panels of two different colors separated by vertical moldings," Mr. Ficken suggests. "Leave the opposite wall unpaneled and paint it just one color."

Stock moldings of ponderosa pine are available in many sizes and styles to help the decorator, whether amateur or professional, improve the appearance of a room at low cost. The designer explains that when it's not practical to make structural changes in a house or apartment, moldings can work wonders.

Here are some additional tips he gives for decorating with stock molding:

Flush doors, plain cabinets, and unfinished furniture: Add strips of molding to give the popular provincial look.

Windows and doorways: Emphasize and add architectural importance by framing with molding.

High-ceilinged rooms: Attach a horizontal strip of molding to walls two or three feet above floor, using contrasting paint or paper below to make a dado.

Fireplace: Make a panel of molding above the fireplace and hang a picture within it to give traditional elegance to the focal point of the room.

For unusual effects, combine various styles of moldings.

Build New Home's Furnishings Around A Few Good Pieces

How can you compensate for a "champagne taste and a beer pocket-book" when buying furniture, particularly for your first home?

The answer, decorators say, is to choose a few good pieces and then fill out with inexpensive or used items which can be discarded as your budget lets you complete your furnishings with the quality you wish.

Select your good pieces with care, buying well-made furniture of a style which will be adaptable to your evolving decorative plan.

Handy Cutlery Corner Keen Idea for Kitchen

Put a "cutlery corner" in your kitchen for convenience. Start with a counter-top cutting board near the sink.

On the wall above it, install a magnetized knife holder big enough for an assortment of cutlery, including knives for paring, peeling, slicing, chopping, opening shellfish, and carving.

Complete the cutting center with an electric knife sharpener to keep each knife in top operating condition, or a combination knife-and-scissors sharpener.

flooring favorite, is ideally suited to the exposed floor arrangement, Mr. Nickey points out, because of its eye appeal and ease of upkeep, together with resistance to wear and to denting. Then, too, he adds, the wood's resilience makes it easy on the feet, while its insulating quality serves to promote welcome floor warmth in winter.

Oak, noted for its rich natural beauty of grain and coloring, leads the hardwood popularity parade.

Other handsome flooring species readily available include hard maple, beech, birch and pecan. Such exquisite woods as walnut, cherry, ash, hickory and teak also can be obtained.

Interesting selections can be made from among the four basic styles—strip, plank, block and par-tongued and grooved strip oak. Many architects and designers recommend a combination of from 1½ to 3¼ inches. Of several styles to lend distinctiveness to a home. In this plan, for example, strip floors might be specified for bedrooms and halls, plank for the family room, library or den, and block or parquet floors for the living and dining rooms.

Each style can be obtained in a choice of sizes and grades. In flooring, for instance, widths range from 1½ to 3¼ inches. Of several thicknesses available, the 2½-inch is most popular for new homes. Thinner sizes generally are chosen for modernization.

Unfinished oak in the strip style comes in two grades of quarter-sawn stock and four conventional grades of plain-sawn stock. Additionally, a new classification called 1¼ Ft. Shorts is available.

Factory-finished strip flooring is produced in four grades of oak and one of beech and pecan. Grading is based chiefly on the appearance of the wood, the higher grades being more uniform in that respect.

ALWAYS IN DOUBT - "Doubtful" the colt is aptly named as certain things about him are still in doubt. It was doubtful whether or not Trixie was in foal, and when she proved she was by producing a colt, said colt is doubtful whether to be a bay or sorrel. Only time will tell. Doubtful was sired by a registered quarter horse and is already exhibiting a good disposition and an excellent gait. Big things are expected of this colt.

Horses Help Round Out Happy Home Life

By LOIS ZYER
What do newlyweds generally look for when choosing their new

PRIDE AND JOY - Sharon Bussian is extremely fond of her 14 year old brood mare, Trixie. Sharon was 11 years old when she received the horse and they have grown up together. Trixie has produced three fouts, all of which the Bussians still own. Her first colt is voice trained which encouraged their future plans to raise horses for children as this strain is extremely intelligent and gentle. Always in the act is Pal the collie dog who is constantly on guard at the stable. Any sign of unrest among the horses is promptly reported to Wayne and Sharon. Pal seems to love the horses as much as the Bussians.

home? Few young couples know exactly what they want, but Wayne and Sharon Bussian did. They were not searching for the typical dream house in which to begin housekeeping, but a place with enough space for their horses.

Both Sharon and Wayne had lived in the area and wanted to stay in this vicinity near their families. They found their dream home on Oak Park ave., in Tinley Park. It consists of 15 acres of land and several out-buildings, including a large well built barn. Incidentally there is also a large brick ranch home, much too big for a young couple, but the barn was perfect for the horses.

At present they own four horses, a pony and board three others. The pasture land makes this an ideal spot to raise horses; their plan for the near future. They hope to raise, train and sell horses especially for children. The strain they have developed thus far is exceptionally gentle and capable of being word-trained.

One section of their land has been set aside for a ring in which they can work out their horses and where the boarded horses may be ridden by their owners.

Wayne, Sharon, the two dogs and seven horses may not be the typical suburbanite family but they do show that suburban living appeals to different people for different reasons.

Young Family Builds Home

By LOIS ZYER

When a young family with an unlimited amount of ambition and a not so unlimited amount of funds sets out to build a house, it's apt to reflect their general character because so much of themselves goes into its building.

Ralph and Gerry Sipes and family, Mark, 10, and John, 8, rented a house in Palos Park five years ago so as to be near enough to Tinley Park to build their house and not have to travel back and forth to Chicago, their former home.

Ralph, with the assistance of some friends, broke ground for the new house in September, 1958. He built the foundation and worked with a carpenter to frame the house. Professional bricklayers were called in to put up the outside walls, plasterers did the interior walls, and plumbers put in the rough plumbing.

From there on in he was on his own. Ralph installed the heating plant and finished the plumbing and in May of 1959 the family moved in.

Now four years later their charming home is a perfect example of what can be done with determination and hard work. The entire house is not yet complete as work is still being done in the kitchen area and the family room and outside patio are projects for a later date.

The bedrooms and one bathroom were completed first. Sipes designed and executed the plans for the unique bathroom which has a charming and rustic look not often found in so small a room. The bathroom carries out the Early American theme prevalent thruout the house.

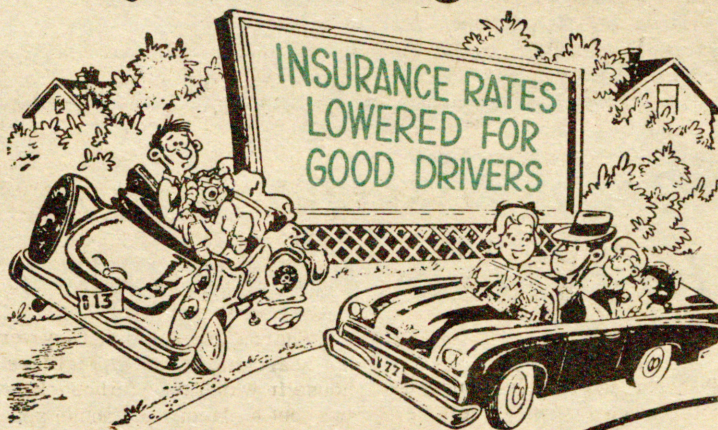

Gerry's fondness for family tradition has led to the general decorating scheme in all the rooms. Being handy with the paint brush put her in charge of wall painting and refinishing their family heirlooms so that they would blend in with the other furnishings.

When a 90-year old uncle died, Gerry fell heir to his ancient bedroom suite which, Ralph referred to as "more junk." But being very thrifty minded, Gerry set to work and enameled the three pieces of furniture in stark white, picking up the deep turquoise of the guest room walls on the knobs and bits of filigree that adorn the pieces. A little touch of gold here and there and she had a remarkably attractive bedroom suite.

An old wooden rocker and a small table were also done in stark white, then white cafe curtains, white bedspread and white rugs were added and the room was almost complete. A long velvet ribbon with a flat bow was hung on the wall to which was attached gold framed formal portraits of their forebearers. On the other walls are typical old time wedding and family group pictures of the type that all families have hidden in the attic or stored in old trunks. A bright gold vase on the small table by the bed and several old china pieces on the dresser combine to make this an outstanding room, a tribute to Mrs. Sipes' ingenuity and deep feeling for her family heritage.

The 26x13 foot livingroom has picture windows on either end. Under one window stands a six foot long dropleaf table which Ralph made and finished in a rich honey maple to match the purchased pieces in the room.

The focal point of the room is the large open brick fireplace with its foot high hearth that takes up most of one wall. Several of the tables used in the room were made by Gerry's great-grandfather. She has refinished them and the whole family has a deep pride in these unusual pieces of furniture.

A large chest stands in the entrance hall. While not hand made, this marble topped chest has been in the family for many years. What appears to be a large book sets atop the chest. On closer examination one finds the book is actually a wooden box that contains several old valentines and cards that had belonged to Mrs. Sipes' grandmother. This old box was originally made as a pencil and book holder when her grandmother was a school girl.

On a desk in the livingroom is another old box that now contains stationary. In its day, this wooden box served as a lunch box for Gerry's great-grandfather. Now refinished to match the decor of the home, these boxes are beautiful additions to the room.

A century old small china grandfather's clock, in good running condition, stands on an open maple hutch along with other old china bric-a-brac. An Early American rocker, upholstered to resemble a patchwork quilt, adds to the cozy atmosphere of the room.

Immediately upon entering the Sipes home one feels the air of pleasantness and hospitality that prevails. Hard work, ingenuity and sentimentality combined to make the Ralph Sipes house a HOME!

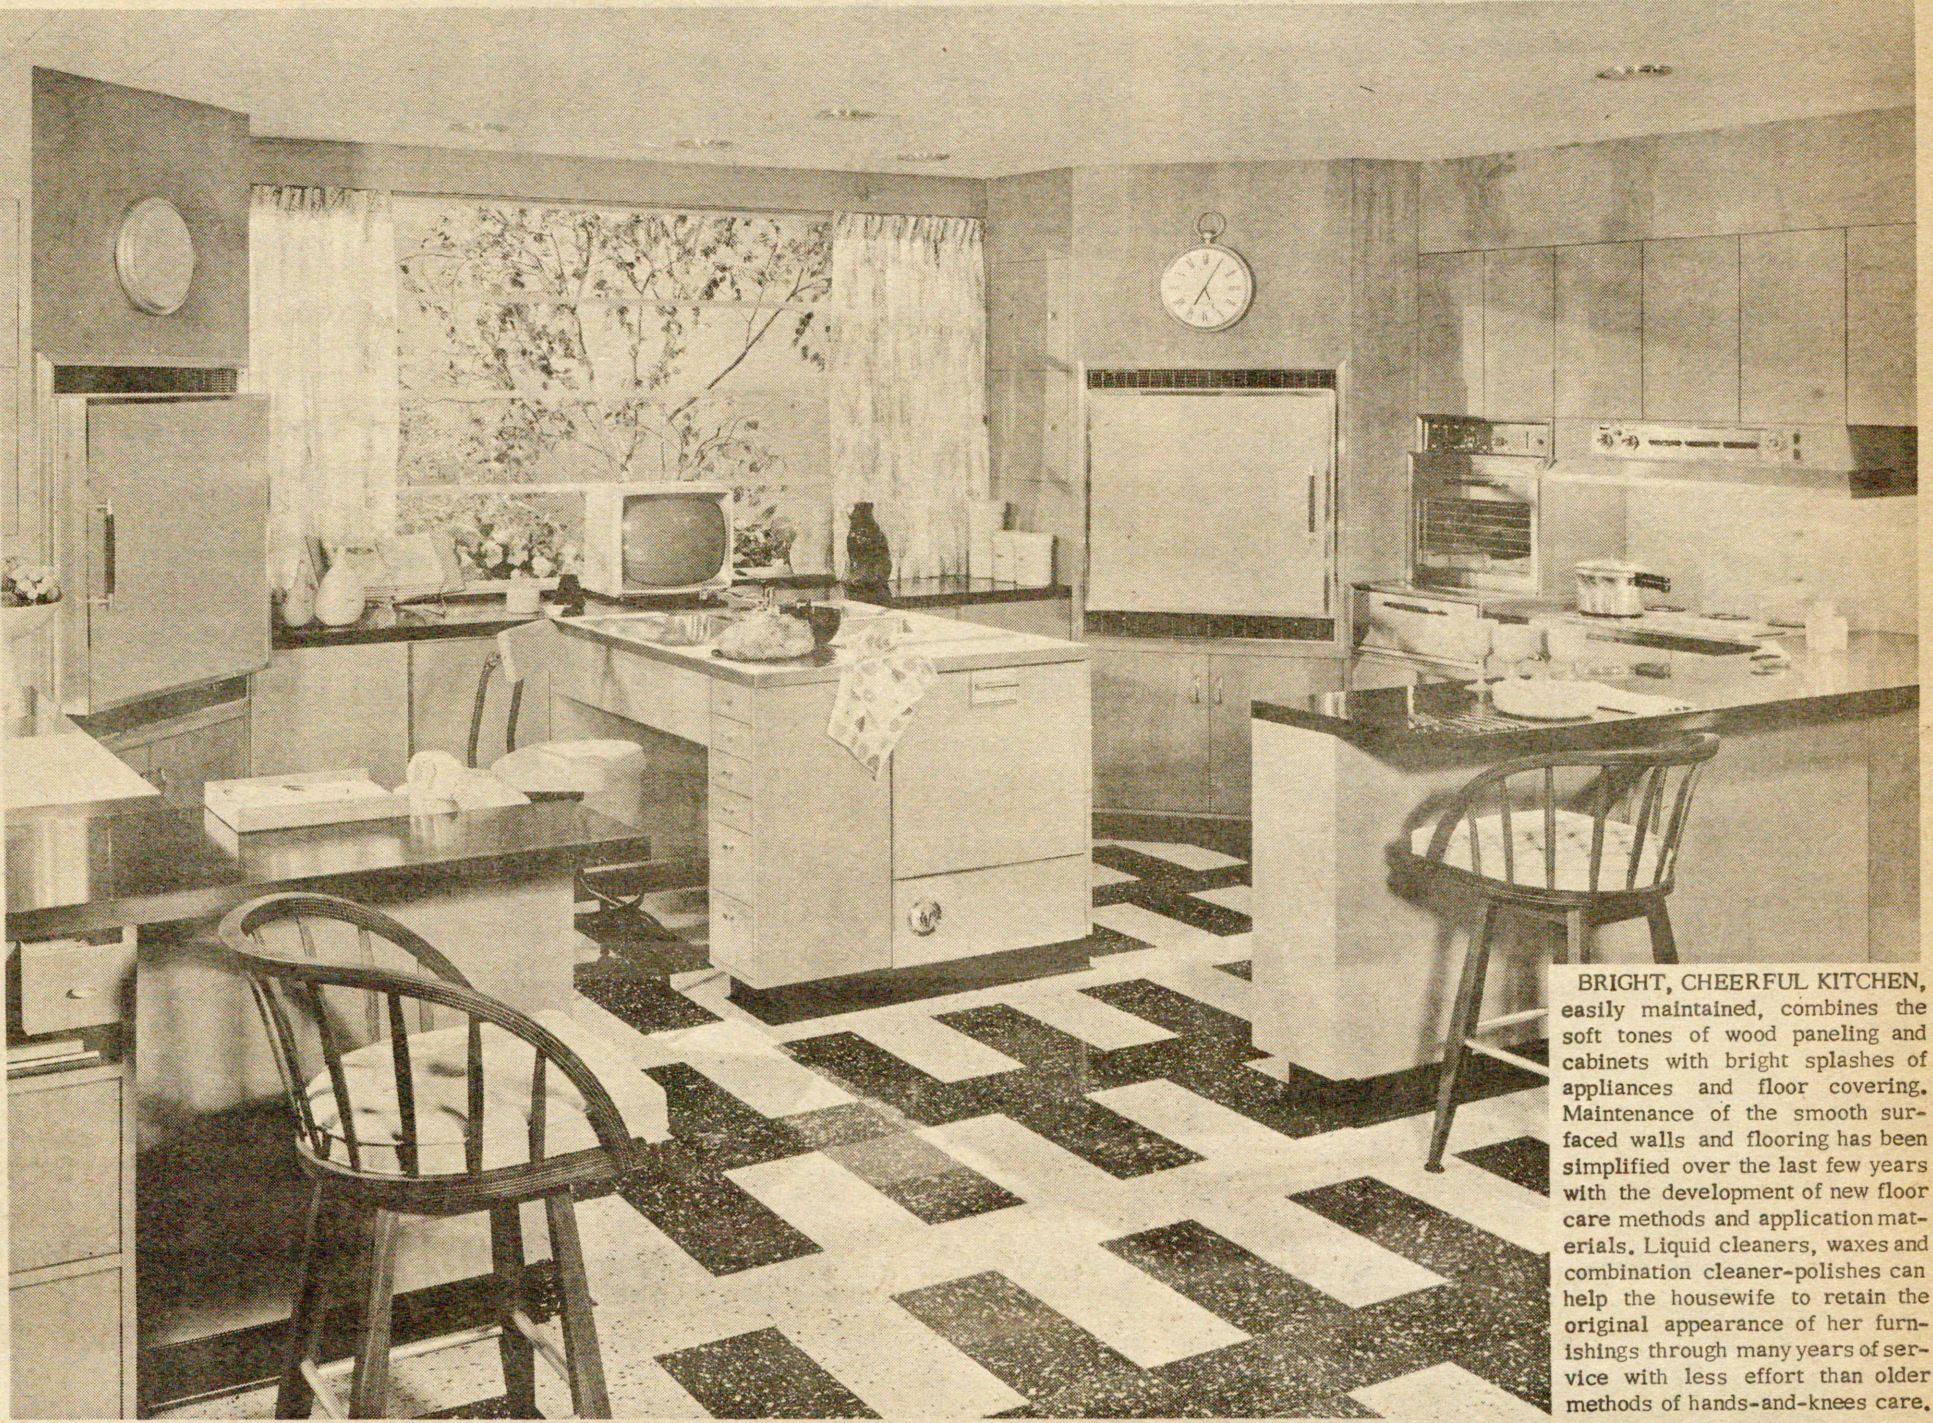

Two Paint Coats

During One Day

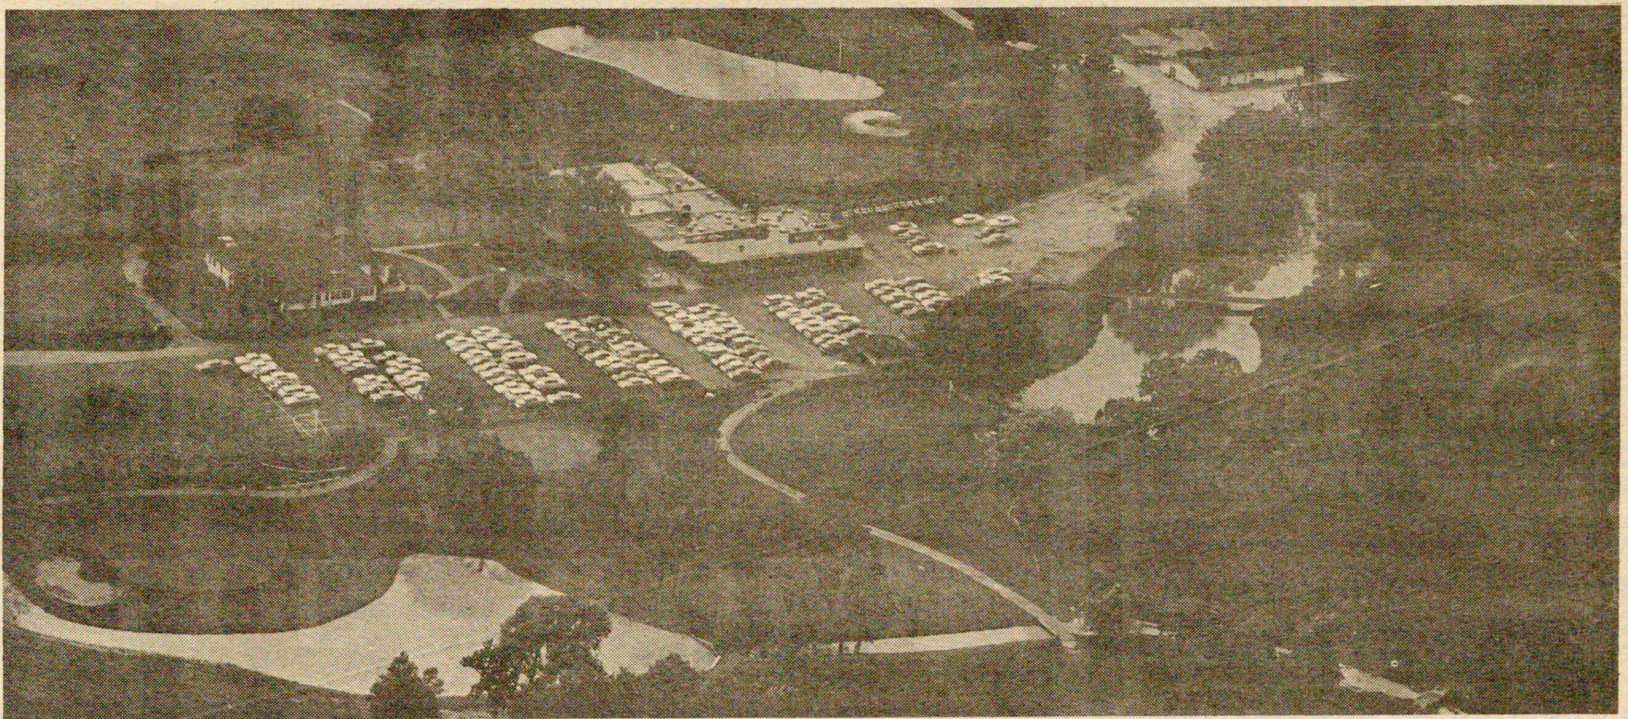

One method of applying two coats of paint to a room in one day is to use one of the new tinted shellacs as an undercoat. Sand the area to be painted, as usual, and apply the tinted shellac, which dries normally in about 45 minutes. Sand lightly when dry, then apply the finish coat of vinyl or oil base paint.

Edge and border strips make an attractive border around this flower bed. These precast units provide a neat, crisp transition between your lawn and flower bed, and protect the flower bed from rubber-tired lawn mowers.

BRIGHT, CHEERFUL KITCHEN, easily maintained, combines the soft tones of wood paneling and cabinets with bright splashes of appliances and floor covering. Maintenance of the smooth surfaced walls and flooring has been simplified over the last few years with the development of new floor care methods and application materials. Liquid cleaners, waxes and combination cleaner-polishes can help the housewife to retain the original appearance of her furnishings through many years of service with less effort than older methods of hands-and-knees care.

Good Plumbing

"Good plumbing doesn't cost. It pays." So says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau in emphasizing the importance of quality in plumbing systems.

A quality plumbing installation, the Bureau points out, involves the use of plumbing fixtures made by manufacturers of national reputation, quality fittings and accessories, piping materials that are durable and adequate in size, and a plumbing system that is designed for complete sanitation and trouble-free operation for the life of the house.

Quality is equally important in modernization work as in new construction, the Bureau asserts.

One of the best ways for the home builder and home modernizer to be assured of a quality installation is to consult with an experienced plumbing contractor long before the blueprints for a new house are drawn.

Plumbing contractors are familiar with materials that have stood the test of time and can offer valuable advice to homeowners on the selection of fixtures as well as piping materials.

A quality plumbing installation will pay off over a period of years in lower cost for repairs and maintenance. This is true of piping as well as the fixtures.

Quality in the valves and fittings -- the working parts of the plumbing system -- is particularly vital to trouble-free operation of the system over a long period of time, the Bureau points out.

THE ORIENT HATH CHARMS

IT'S UNUSUAL -- Mrs. Mary Shapiro, owner of the home at 904 Prairie, Downers Grove, agrees that her abode is not common to this part of the world. Welcoming visitors at the entrance (although Oriental homes technically have no "back" or "front" doors) she displays the unique rounded gate set in the center of a fence which surrounds a garden and walk.

HIDDEN BEAUTY -- Periwinkle vines spread their deep green cover over the front yard of the Shapiro home. Influences of the far East can be found everywhere. Pond at far end of garden gives rise to huge water lilies and provides a home for small fish and toads. Potted petunias in many hues grace the doorsteps and walk.

Shapiro Home Features Open Courtyard

Take wind chimes from the Philippines, add Kwan Yin, Chinese goddess of mercy, sprinkle with rosewood and dark oak, and come up with the Oriental abode of Mrs. Mary Shapiro, 904 Prairie, Downers Grove.

The 14-month-old house, designed, by its owner and Architect Albert H. Nemoede, was influenced by Mrs. Shapiro's trips to Hawaii, where most of the homes are Japanese or Chinese inspired.

Built around a central courtyard, the single-level home features inner walls of floor-length panes of glass.

"This insures natural lighting for the rooms," said Mrs. Shapiro, "and adds beauty. And the 'glass walls' really don't make the home that much harder to keep warm," she added.

Simple Chinese furniture in natural wood stains is spread throughout the living and dining area, and indirect lighting highlights the soft sheen of Oriental carpets and paneled walls.

"I did the bedroom in Italian provincial for relief," said Mrs. Shapiro.

But all other rooms (and the outside of the house) typifies Far East design.

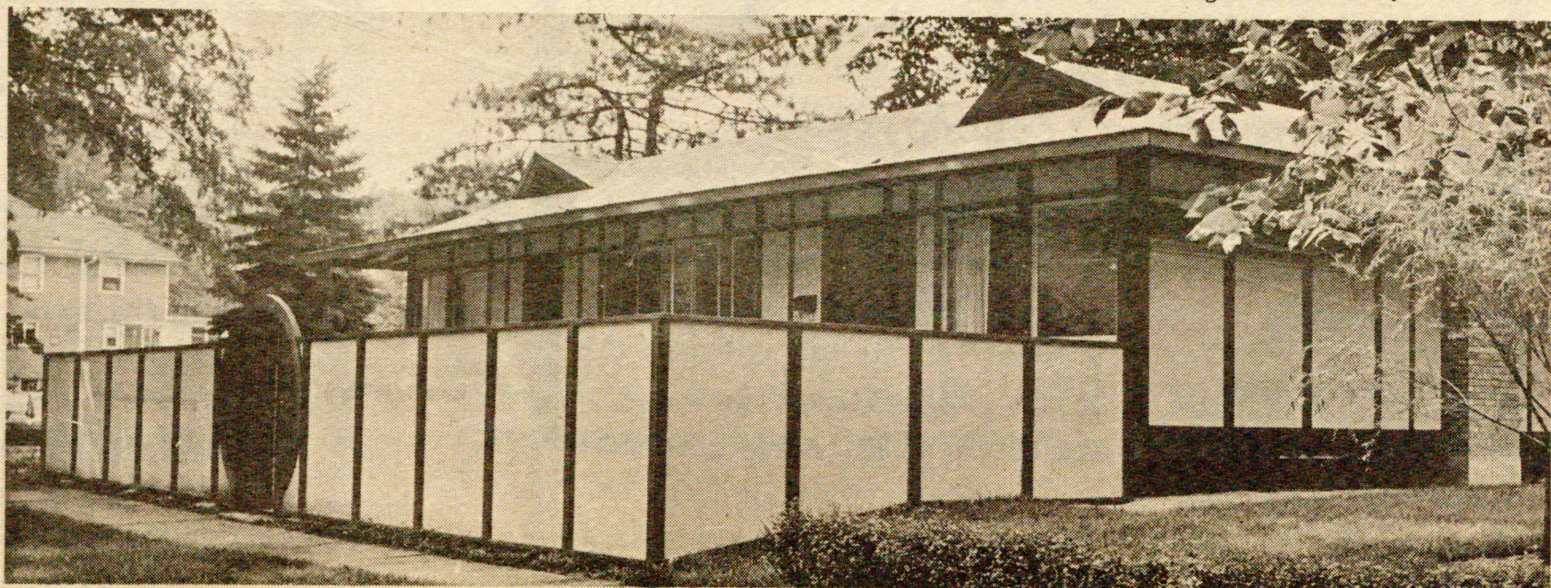

Since there is no "front" or "back" to Oriental houses, the "front" of the Shapiro home has two doors--one which serves as the entrance and another which leads to the utility room.

A charming garden, complete with water lilies in a pond, stretches across the front of the house. Periwinkle vines and potted petunia plants add color and fragrance to the building, painted in soft pink.

A beamed cathedral ceiling in the living room, a Chinese guitar on the dining room wall, and numerous "knick-knacks" of Oriental inspiration compliment the home. Mrs. Shapiro collected many objects from Hawaii and was given authentic pieces by friends traveling in the Far East.

OUT OF THIS WORLD -- Architect Albert H. Nemoede, 4921 Forest, Downers Grove, combined talents with Mrs. Shapiro to design the single-level dwelling with heavy Oriental inspiration. Built only 14 months ago, the home features a four-foot overhang common to most Chinese and Japanese buildings. "The wide overhang protects the homes from rain and winds, as well as keeping out the bright sun," Mrs. Shapiro explained.

Building Materials That Last

Outside construction materials have followed the trend to supply today's home owners with materials that last the life of the home and require little refinishing. For example, pre-finished sidings have been developed that need little repainting.

Modern factory-built window units are treated with a moisture repellent and toxic chemical preservative to minimize warping and shrinkage and prevent attack by termites. The best wood windows today will last the life of the house. In addition, easy-to-handle cement blocks have come into their own as a ready-finished construction material in line with brick. Mortar to join them has recently undergone revolutionary improvement for sure bonding and long life.

Shingles are guaranteed for as long as 20 years and are interlocked to be windproof.

Materials for inside construction and decoration are just as well-developed as those for the outside.

Smoother plaster, less apt to crack, welds itself to base. Rubberized or plastic-based paints are easier to clean. Sheetrock--dry wall construction -- speeds up construction and is washable.

Leakproof, weathertight wood window units, fitted to precision, prevent dusty sills and streaky walls. Wallpaper of plastic has attractive colorful patterns, is five times stronger than the paper used a generation or more ago, and is washable.

Four basic elements for consideration in buying a home are the foundation, shell, utilities, and windows. Once installed they are the items most costly to replace.

The average layman is, however, unable to judge the adequacy of the utilities -- plumbing, heating, cooling, electricity, etc. -- and quality of the foundation and shell of the home since many of the important technical features are concealed and would not be evident

Wallpaper Removal

Washable wallpaper should be sanded before being removed to let the water get through to soften the old paste. Add one-fourth cup of vinegar to each quart of hot water used, spray on paper with an insect sprayer, allow to soak about five minutes, then scrape off old paper.

Cats And Dogs

Cats outnumber dogs in the nation, according to a recent survey. Estimates are that some 12,000,000 families own about 25,500,000 cats, while approximately 17,900,000 families own about 24,130,000 dogs.

even to an expert unless he were to chop into the walls.

Local building codes, FHA and other financial institution regulations require these basic parts of the home to be at least adequate in quality.

Today's homebuyer can be reasonably sure that most houses conform to the minimum requirements. . . and can check certain visible aspects of the elements for consideration.

A vital utility consideration in today's home is electricity. With the mounting number of appliances used, every house should have at least 100 ampere service, proper wiring and a sufficient number of outlets conveniently placed. Meters should be placed outside the house for availability.

The homebuyer can also check the placement and quality of windows. Modern houses are literally built around their windows. The arrangement of rooms, furniture grouping and furnishings are all done according to windows. Available wall space is largely determined by windows.

In seeking the quality home of today, if evidenced that the builder has made a conscientious effort to provide superior livability (rather than salability), and makes a point of emphasizing brand names, then it's not likely that he skimmed on the basic materials.

The well-designed house apparently receives extra care to make it livable, achieve intangible values and will most likely contain quality in the hidden parts of the home.

Years ago building a home was practically a one-man operation. The builder had to be a jack-of-all-trades.

Today's builder is a co-ordinator of men and materials. He consults and directs the architect, engineer, plumber, carpenter, painter, electrician, plasterer and laborer.

These improved methods of specialization, plus the best materials and latest advances in modern equipment, can give today's new home-owner more house for his money than ever before.

But, the differences between quality and mediocre building materials still have to be sought out by you, Mr. Homebuyer.

It's not easy to do, but if you dig in chances are you'll find it fun. And it's almost certain that your efforts will be rewarded with a better, more economical, easier to live in and maintain home for all the years you will live in it.

And when and if you do sell, you'll be pleasantly surprised at how well it retained its value.
